

Thank you to everyone who attended the public meeting Thursday night. We were excited for the great turnout with over 100 people in attendance. Attendees viewed information on the project and process, visited with project team members, and shared input through a mapping exercise, written comments, and an online survey. All of the thoughtful comments and input shared is so helpful to the City, project team, and the community. If you were unable to attend the meeting, all materials presented are available on the project website:
