

HELLO,

Save the Date: Public Meeting Scheduled

Please save the date, as the next public meeting for the Austin Ave. Bridges Project has been scheduled. This workshop will be a hands on opportunity for the community to share input on the vision of the bridges considering aesthetics, bike/ped accommodations, and trail connections. During this meeting, there will be brief presentation reviewing the process and public input received to date. Then attendees will break into groups and work through solutions and concepts for possible alternatives. If you are interested in attending this workshop, please note it will begin promptly at 6:00 p.m. and lasts until 8:30 p.m. To help us prepare, please RSVP.

Public Meeting Summary Posted

Thanks again to everyone who attended the public meeting in March and shared feedback with us. A summary of the public meeting has been posted to the website, including responses to major themes from the input received. Please click the icon to download the report.

Project Update

The City of Georgetown has contracted two independent firms to review the findings of the Forensic Evaluation that was previously completed on the Austin Ave. Bridges. We expect the full report to be completed in the next few weeks and we will send out an update once they are posted to the website.

In addition to developing the public meeting summary, field survey work has been completed and the City and project team are reviewing the data collected.

Thank you again for your interest and participation in the Austin Ave. Bridges Project. Please forward this email to friends, family, and neighbors who would be interested in the project or attending the public meeting.
