

Williams Drive What we have heard

Community Engagement

The City of Georgetown has engaged in a public involvement campaign as part of the planning process for the Williams Drive corridor to better understand the needs, desires, and aspirations of residents and stakeholders within the study area. The public involvement process has included public meetings and a week-long Charrette.

In addition to the public open houses, the project team has met with individual stakeholders and small groups to discuss specific concerns. Information and activities are also available online to collect input beyond what was gathered at the public meetings.

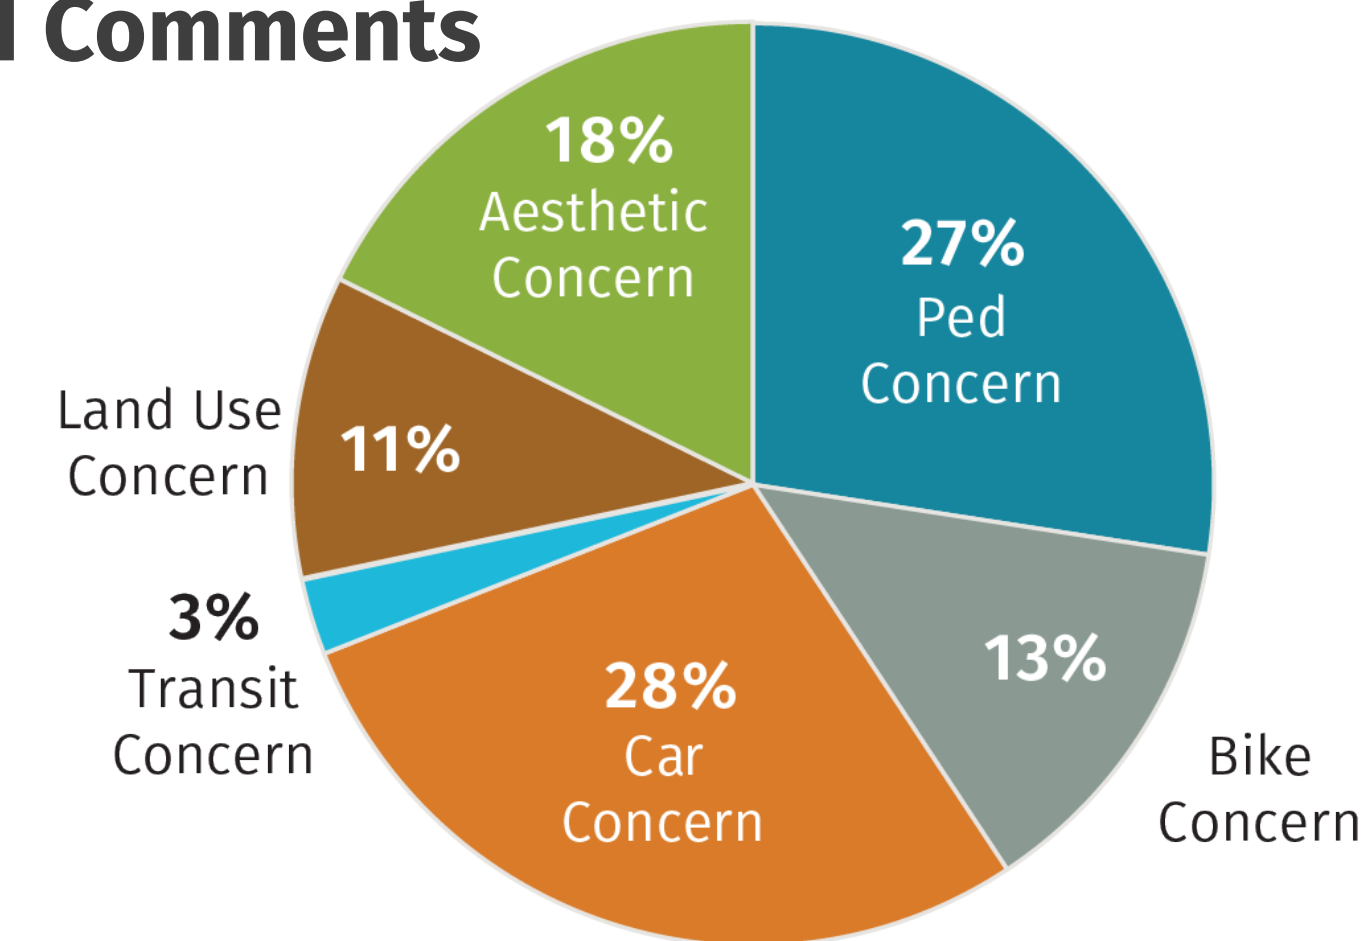

For updates and further information see:

<https://transportation.georgetown.org/williams-drive>

Breakdown of Public Input

October Open House

- 105 Attendees
- 71 Comments

November Charrette Events

- 86 Attendees
- Over 120 Comments

Outreach to Date:

1,300 member email list

5,500 views

400+ phone calls

8,100 views

33,000 printed copies

